McNamara Says Charges U.S. Military Power Is Declining Is A "Myth"

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara permitted use of intelligence estimates to challenge Gen. Curtis E. LeMay because he wanted to kill at birth any myth about declining U.S. military superiority.

This was learned from defense officials today as the gulf widened between the strong-willed defense secretary and the equally strong-minded Air Force chief of staff.

Late Tuesday the Pentagon issued a statement stressing "the increasing military superiority of the United States." It came after publication of LeMay's February congressional testimony contending the Russians are narrowing the gap.

Officials noted that there had been a spate of criticisms, including a new defense strategy paper spelling out the views of one of McNamara's strongest foes, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

But Goldwater's paper dwelt mostly on the issue of missile reliability—which plunged him into collision with McNamara. Alcott said other speakers will include Chairman Fred G. Kunk.

One high official familiar with McNamara's thinking said the defense secretary feels it is "dangerous to raise any doubts

EXCHANGE TO STAGE HOBBY SHOW IN FALL

Gettysburg Exchange Club Tuesday evening, at its meeting in the Lamp Post Tea Room, voted to hold a "Christmas merchandise preview and hobby show" in November and move the date of its annual Builders' Show from March to February.

The decisions came after more than an hour of discussion at which the members reviewed the activities of the last year and made suggestions for future events.

Reports on the recent Builders' Show disclosed a number of the exhibitors had suggested that February would be a better month for such a program than March and the club, after discussing the entire program, decided to hold the show next year in February.

David Garfinkle suggested the idea of having a Christmas merchandise preview and hobby show at which merchants could set up booths showing new goods they will have available during the Christmas season and hobbyists could display their hobbies. CANCER DEATH SILENCES PEN OF AUTHORESS

SILVER SPRING, Md. (AP) — Death by cancer has silenced Rachel Carson whose book "Silent Spring" created international controversy with its charge that man was poisoning the earth and himself by his efforts to control nature with chemicals.

Miss Carson, 56, a biologist who became a best selling author in 1951 with "The Sea Around Us," died Tuesday afternoon at her home. She learned five years ago, apparently while working on "Silent Spring," that she had cancer.

Her book helped inspire a White House report last May calling for stronger federal laws on pesticides and new steps to regulate their control.

WARN'S OF DANGER

The book warned of the dangers of tampering with the balance of nature and argued for biological controls rather than massive and indiscriminate use of chemicals, such as pesticides and weed killers.

She wrote: "These sprays, dusts, and aerosols are now applied almost universally to farms, gardens, forests and homes — nonselective chemicals that have the power to kill every insect, the 'good' and the 'bad,' to still the song of birds and the leaping of fish in the streams, to coat the leaves with a deadly film, and to linger on in the soil—all this though the intended target may be only a few weeds or insects. Can anyone believe it is possible to lay down such a barrage of poisons on the surface of the earth without making it unfit for all life?"

Miss Carson's book, which ironically also warned of the hazards of man-made cancer-producing substances, was criticized by some, including pesticide industry chemists, as presenting an incomplete picture. Manufacturers and trade associations defended the safety of pesticides "when used as directed."

After learning of her death, Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall heaped praise on Miss Carson in a statement. He said she "was the kind of woman who makes men proud, a scientist of rare courage and ability, and a world-renowned author whose eye was trained to the destiny of generations she would never see."

WORKED FOR U.S.

Miss Carson first became concerned with chemical weed-and-insect killers while working as a biologist with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Born in Springfield, Pa., she received a bachelor's degree at Pennsylvania College for Women and a master's degree at Johns Hopkins University.

Miss Carson never married but adopted a grandnephew, Roger Christie, now 10. The only other survivor is her brother, Robert M. Carson of Silver Spring.

Floodwaters May Isolate Ga. Town

NEWTON, Ga. (AP) — The rising Flint River is spilling floodwaters into swamplands surrounding the town of Newton and threatens to close the last remaining route out of this community of some 2,500.

Sheriff L. W. Johnson said all roads but one from the Baker County community are inundated. The river, however, is expected to recede rapidly after it reaches its crest at about 31 feet — 7 feet over flood stage—today, and the isolation would be brief.

The floods were caused by several days of heavy rains in north Georgia.

ADAMS COUNTY PUBLIC LIBRARY

MRS. CHAN COULTER
Gettysburg College Faculty

Reading is the key to open new worlds of enjoyment for children. Yet, parents realize that many children need stimulation to take advantage of the opportunities books offer. Parents can help stimulate children of all ages to read and broaden their taste in literature by reading aloud good stories. Home libraries give children a sense of pride in possession and help make much loved books a part of their daily living. However, the best of home libraries can not have the variety available in a public collection such as the excellent juvenile section of our Adams County Public Library. Here a child has an opportunity to browse with or without supervision and parents can find books to supplement the child's selection.

Only a few of the many kinds of books available at the library are mentioned here. The opportunity to understand a group of people from other times, and other countries can be provided by many books. Some suggested books are:

Ages 6, 7, 8: Clark, "In My Mother's House"; Flack, "Story of Ping."

Ages 9, 10, 11: Steele, "Winter Danger"; Brink, "Caddie Woodlawn"; Seredy, "Good Mother."

Age 12 and over: Forbes, Forbes, "Johnny Tremain"; Dana, "Two Years Before the Mast"; Wyss, "Swiss Family Robinson"; Wilder, "On the Banks of Plum Creek"; Krumgold, "And Now Miquel"; Holling, "Tree in the Trail"; Stewart, "To California by Covered Wagon."

Many children love to read for "facts."

Ages 6, 7, 8: Sucksdorff, "Chendum, The Boy and The Tiger"; Zaffo, "Big Book of Fire Engines"; Flack, "Boats on the River"; Dugdale, "America Travels."

Ages 9, 10, 11: Daugherty, "Of Courage Undaunted"; Corriveau, "First Book of Stones"; Feravalo, "Junior Science Book of Flying."

Age 12 and over: Heyerdahl, "Kon-Tiki"; Wiese, "On Safari"; Reed, "The Sea for Sam."

A few well written stories for suspense, adventure or humor are:

Ages 6, 7, 8: Leaf, "Ferdinand"; Gannet, "My Father's Dragon"; Lawson, "Rabbit Hill"; Ward, "Biggest Bear."

Ages 9, 10 and 11: Atwater, "Mr. Popper's Penguins"; McCloskey, "Homer Price"; Lafarge, "Cochise of Arizona"; Edmonds, "The Matchlock Gun"; Holling, "Paddle to the Sea"; MacGregor, "Miss Pickrell Goes to Mars."

Age 12 and over: Sperry, "Storm Canvas"; Stevenson, "Treasure Island"; Boyd, "Drums"; DuBois, "The Twenty-One Balloons"; Heinlein, "Space Cadet."

The four juveniles were picked up by police after they had been seen from 1 a.m. Monday until about 8 o'clock near their automobile a 1966 Chevrolet sedan. Police learned from New York that it was a Buffalo automobile and had been stolen.

Edwards said that he was a hitch-hiker and had been given a ride by the youngsters.

Today's Talk

THAT LOW EBB

Most of our mistakes, and most of our foolish moves, are made when our mental, moral and physical tide is far out — in other words, at its lowest. The most dangerous time for anyone to act upon impulse!

There never was a storm that wasn't followed by peaceful sun-shine. The darkest nights are later replaced by those that are wonderfully illuminated by billions of stars and a ball of fire, which we call the moon. These are obvious facts — but facts that are all too often neglected and not taken to heart.

Crimes are committed when the spirit of a man reaches its lowest ebb. And this low ebb is usually reached only after a long series of disappointments, discouragements, and setbacks. One's grip on the higher values loosens and there is a leak in the moral fabric.

It is then that "a fellow needs a friend." He needs that friend's assurance and faith, and that friend's confidence. Men do not mistake greatly because they are bad, but because they reach their low ebb, for some reason or other, and there's no one around to tell them about the high tide that is sure to come in — bringing to them, perhaps, their long hoped-for dreams — come true!

Most suicides are committed when the ebb of hope is lowest. Had such people waited until the high tide of hope came in, there would have been a different and happier story to tell. The lesson is this: Make no rash or foolish moves when your spirit is at low ebb. Stick it out. Let no man call you a deserter — much less the man who rules inside of you.

Always wait for the good high tide to come in. This is the tide that Shakespeare spoke of, and of which he said, "if taken at its flood, leads on to fortune." It's our energy, our hope, our faith, and our confidence in ourselves, that contribute to this high tide "in the affairs of men," the anticipation of which rescues us from all the disasters possible at low tide — when everything seems ebbing away.

MONEY AND VOTES

He wasn't much of a man, but still

He did what weak men sometimes will,

He wed and won a maiden fair

For whom he didn't really care.

Although no love for her he had.

He knew she had a wealthy dad.

At first the father was kind

To please his daughter was inclined.

He'd grant her everything she asked

Until his purse was over-tasked.

The husband, idling all through life

Still played the beggar to his wife.

He'd win her time and time again

To ask her dad for money when down deep within his heart he knew

No more the kindly man should do,

But fathers oft to daughters give

What they require themselves to live.

Said friends: "Have pity on the man!

Get out and do the best you can.

Already he is deep in debt,

Surely his own needs you forget."

And this the blunt reply he made:

"He'll see his daughter's bills are paid!"

How like the politician who

Chooses the voters power to woo

And will not once his greed relax,

Remembering him who pays the tax.

Wedded to votes he scorns the ill.

That fall to him who foots the bills.

J. S. ZANGER IS HONORED BY JAYCEES

Jan Scott Zanger was the recipient of the Ralph R. Ruggles award, named in honor of the first president of the Littlestown Junior Chamber of Commerce, at the "outstanding Jaycee of the year." Zanger received the award on point basis and by vote.

Samuel J. Snyder, who was president in 1954, presented the award to Zanger for Mr. Ruggles who was unable to attend. The presentation was made at the annual banquet Tuesday evening at Dutherer's Restaurant in Littlestown.

In a special presentation, a plaque was given to Paul F. (Boots) Boller Jr., a retired member, Boller, the immediate past president of the chapter, also served as state director. The plaque was inscribed as a testimonial "of a grateful organization" in appreciation of "distinguished and unselfish service."

ATTENDANCE AWARDS

Boller presented perfect attendance awards to Freddie L. Dutterer, James O. Wolf, J. Scott Zanger, Kenneth S. Ogg, Richard E. Selby and Paul F. Boller. Freddie L. Dutterer was the recipient of the "Spoke" award. Jaycees receiving the "Spark Plug" award were James Wolf, Scott Zanger, Kenneth Selby, Richard Selby and Paul Boller.

Robert Gordon, York, state president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce from Area IV, installed the following newly-elected officers: President, Kenneth S. Ogg; vice president, J. Scott Zanger; secretary-treasurer, Dean W. Bankert; state director, Clyde W. Crouse; directors, Freddie Dutterer, chairman, James Wolf and Richard Selby. John Shomper was installed as a new member.

The keynote speaker was James McClausland, Pennsylvania state secretary, who spoke on "The Jaycees With Free Enterprise and Service." In keeping with the theme, he challenged the young men "not to vegetate but participate." A Jaycee is to first discover the needs in the community, analyze oneself and decide how much time to offer for the project. He asked the men to work for the community as one would a second job.

Remarks were given by Richard E. Selby, outgoing president and newly-elected Pennsylvania state vice president from Area IV. Ogg explained the proposed 1964-65 year of planned action for the Jaycees. Prior to the annual supper served family style, invocation was offered by Mrs. Ruth W. Elder and accompanied by Miss Carolyn Kump, a senior. RED WINGS WIN IN OVERTIME

TORONTO (AP)—The official count showed that 14,017 fans saw the Detroit Red Wings beat the Toronto Maple Leafs 4-3 Tuesday night to tie their National Hockey League season.

EARLY LEAD FOR PHILS

Jim Hart, Orlando Cepeda and Tom Haller also homered for the Giants, who broke a 4-4 tie in the sixth on Cepeda's single, a wild pitch and a single by Haller. Juan Marichal, 25-8 last year, was the winner on a seven-hitter.

The Phillies pulled out front in the first as Roy Sievers hammed a homer off Al Jackson following a pair of walks. Bobby Wine's run-producing single in the second and a run-scoring double by rookie Richie Allen in the eighth closed out the scoring.

Russian Women Sweep 5 Games

PLAINVIEW, Tex. (AP)—The Russian women's basketball team wound up its American tour Tuesday night with a 50-49 victory over the Wayland College Flying Queens.

The Queens furnished much stronger opposition than they did when the teams met a week ago at Joplin, Mo., with the Soviet team crushing Wayland 78-36.

The Russians won all five games in the tour and depart today for Lima, Peru, where they are defending world champions.

Umbrecht's Ashes
In Colt Stadium

HOUSTON (AP)—The ashes of Jim Umbrecht, the Houston Colt pitcher who died a week ago of cancer, have been scattered over Colt Stadium, an area he loved.

Umbrecht was a right-handed relief pitcher for the National League Colts. Funeral services were held Friday and the body cremated.

The ashes were scattered over the baseball field from a small plane Saturday, but this was not revealed until Tuesday by Colt officials.

"Jim's family wanted no advance publicity about the disposition of the ashes," a Colt official explained.

NIGHT RACING AT LINCOLN

The Lincoln Speedway, near Abbottstown, will switch to night racing Saturday at 8:30 p.m.

For the present no rain dates will be scheduled.

The half-mile clay oval, recognized as one of the fastest short tracks in the east, will play host to the top names in sportsman-modified divisions. Gooding, Haight, Folkerroth, Abel, Miller, Dean, Kentsky and Kable are among the many top stars that will be out to top Frankie Thompson, Shrewsbury, Pa., modified ace whose fuel injected Buick "super" stocker trimmed a classy field of speedsters in last Sunday's inaugural event.

The late model division, with many veteran performers in the starting lineup, will be attempting to stop Gene Saine, Baltimore, from scoring two feature wins in a row.

ARCHERY SHOOT SUNDAY

The Gettysburg archers will hold a 28 field shoot Sunday.

Registration will be from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. Trophies will be awarded in both instinctive and free style classes.

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—One thing as they say doesn't a season make, but if the 1964 success of the Philadelphia Phillies depends on their prize rookie, Richie Allen, the Phils are going to be mighty tough.

Many experts have written that if Allen, the 22-year-old Negro third baseman from Wampum, Pa., can perform half as well as his advance billing, Manager Gene Mauch's Phillies could win the pennant.

Some 21,000 fans came out to see the Phillies' opener at Connie Mack Stadium Tuesday night and most of them came away talking about Allen. He walked, singled and doubled, scored a run and drove in a tally. But more important, he didn't panic under some trying conditions.

TRROUBLE WITH MUD

The Phillies led 4-1 over the New York Mets in the fifth inning when Allen was put to the test. The first two hitters for New York got on base as Allen slipped in mud created by a day long rain. It was upsetting to a veteran, let alone a rookie.

But Allen didn't let it bother him even a little bit.

"Heck, if I could play at Little Rock there isn't anything here that's going to bother me," said the youngster.

MAUCH PLEASED

Allen, of course, referred to his season last year in the International League at Little Rock where he received everything from the boos and racial insults to threats against his life.

He responded by leading the Triple A League in home runs, triples, RBIs and total bases.

Skipper Mauch described this a cool rookie best after the 5-3 victory over the Mets.

"There isn't anything that is going to bother Richie Allen," said Mauch. "He's good and he knows it."

HOMERS HELP BIRDS

Allen hit a two-run homer in the third and finished off Warren Spain with a solo shot in the eighth that chased the Braves' 42-year left-hander.

EARLY LEAD FOR PHILS

The Dodgers scored in the sixth against Ernie Broglio when Willie Davis singled, stole second and scored on Ron Fairly's single. That was enough for Koufax, but Jim Gilliam singled home another run in the seventh and then Howard wrapped it up in the eighth.

Dairy Industry Plans Drive To Urge More Milk Drinkers

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you are an adult who considers milk to be mainly a child's food, the American dairy industry would like to convince you that you are wrong.

The American Dairy Association and the National Dairy Council, trade organizations, are opening campaigns to try to change the image of milk as a food for youngsters. If successful, they believe their efforts would be beneficial to dairymen, adult consumers and the government which now must buy dairy surpluses under a price support program.

The campaign will be directed especially at teen-agers and young adults.

"There are probably many reasons why milk consumption drops as age increases," the two groups say in a statement on their plans. "Not the least of these is that adolescence and adulthood introduce a person to a vast array of foods and beverages other than milk."

They said that research has amply demonstrated that on a nutritional basis milk is important in the diet of persons of all ages.

An unfounded belief that milk is fattening appears to influence many teen-age girls to stop drinking it, the report said.

The two dairy groups said the dairy industry sometimes almost seems "ashamed of the very important nutritive values of milk."

BOYLE'S Grab Bag

NEW YORK (AP) — Sidewalk comments of a Pavement Plato: Do you knock on wood three times to avoid bad luck?

Do you carry a silver dollar or some other object in your pocket to bring good luck?

If your answer in both cases is no, then you aren't a believer in the two most common American superstitions. But that by no means is proof you aren't superstitious.

Many people go through life without becoming religious, at least to the extent of adhering to a formal creed, but hardly any of us escape becoming devotees, consciously or unconsciously, of some of the thousands of superstitions that exist in the world.

SEEKS SECURITY

Since the universe is large and man is small, he has sought since the dawn of his time to find some way of being less uneasy and feeling more comfortable and secure in that universe.

Harris' poll showed Lodge has 46 per cent of the Republican voters in Oregon, Richard M. Nixon 17, Sen. Barry Goldwater 14, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller 13, Gov. William Scranton 4 and Sen. Margaret Chase Smith 1. Harris listed 5 per cent of the voters as still undecided.

Lodge has won editorial endorsement of the Oregonian, the state's most widely circulated newspaper.

Pollster Louis Harris said his survey indicates Lodge is a big favorite among Oregon Republicans and stands to gain a greater victory than he did in the New Hampshire presidential primary last month.

NOT COMING HOME

"We are pleased but not necessarily persuaded," Goldberg said. "If we had listened to the polls in New Hampshire we would have packed our bags and gone home. No one took us seriously."

Goldwater and Rockefeller, noted the swift rise in Lodge's popularity and told Oregonians they should demand that Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, come home tell his stand on issues.

Lodge has said he has no intention of coming home for the May 15 Oregon primary.

As we grow older many of us make up fresh superstitions of our own out of the rituals of living we acquire along the way.

I know of one man who is sure everything will go wrong the rest of the day if he nicks his face while shaving. I know another who has similar premonitions of bad luck if he turns off the alarm clock with his left

Man may someday take the superstition out of science; science will probably never quite take the superstition out of man.

POLL'S PLACE LODGE IN LEAD IN ORE. RACE

By GORDON G. MACNAB
PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The team that won in New Hampshire is hearing heady reports in Oregon as it prepares to try and shape an image of Henry Cabot Lodge as the Republican who can capture the presidency.

"A little too heady," said David Goldberg, 34, Boston attorney and field director for the Lodge campaign.

The team hasn't even started to work and already Lodge is in first place in some Oregon polls as well as in national samplings.

Spring Crop Damages High As Dust Storms Hit Plains

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—An unusually fast and deep low-pressure center that plowed across the lower Plains states Sunday revived memories of dust bowl days in the 1930s with its damage to property and crops.

Oklahoma agriculture officials were trying today to assess the damage to newly planted crops. The total property damage may never be known. Five persons died in accidents on dust-choked highways.

GROUND DRY

Although the storm, which blotted out the sun with its red haze, recalled the "Dirty Thirties," there was no feeling among weather men or agriculture experts that it would soon be repeated. A lack of ground moisture favored the storm.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said a combination of factors led to the unusual dust storm. The closest approach to Sunday's weather since the dust bowl era occurred in the dry years of 1955 and 1956.

"A low as deep as this one," a Weather Bureau spokesman said, "and moving as fast, 35 to 40 miles an hour, is reflected in strong surface winds with a lot of vertical motion."

Sustained winds of 50 miles an hour were recorded in parts of Oklahoma and at the Oklahoma City Weather Bureau gusts up to 71 miles an hour were clocked.

RIPS OUT TREES

Force of the winds was demonstrated at Durant, in southern Oklahoma, where a huge cottonwood tree was ripped out by the roots and hurled into the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Robinson.

Gravel picked up by the wind shattered car windshields in Oklahoma City. The sudden drop in temperatures was blamed for the cracking of windows in autos that were parked in the sun with the glass rolled up.

DAMAGE TO PROPERTY

Wind gusts were clocked at 83 miles an hour in Rochester, Minn., and at 62 miles in Waukegan, Ill. Property damage in Rochester was estimated at $100,000.

Three persons were killed in two mass vehicle pileups on highways that wind through the flat country in the Oklahoma Panhandle. Two others died in a 17-car accident near Okla-

MISS BLATT KEEPS PUSHING

READING, Pa. (AP)—Miss Genevieve Blatt, a Democrat seeking a seat in the U.S. Senate, says her party's leadership is attempting to "force the will of a minority on a majority."

Miss Blatt, secretary of internal affairs, is running in the April 28 primary without support from the state party organization. Her opponents are Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Musmanno, the organization candidate, and David Roberts, Allegheny County prothonotary.

In a news conference Monday, Miss Blatt said: "I believe the (Democratic) committee's choice (of Musmanno) was an effort to force the will of a minority on a majority."

The experience and training of the 67-year-old jurist preferred by the majority of the policy committee is of another age; it has not been focused on the problems of today.

homma City. Strong winds, some gale-force, swept wide areas of the Midwest Monday, causing extensive property damage.

Wet snow fell in Minnesota and the eastern Dakotas. Gusty winds swept the region and travel was sharply curtailed. The strong winds also lashed areas in Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois. Earlier a series of tornadoes swept through sections of Kansas, Missouri and Iowa, killing six persons and injuring more than 50 others.

Wind gusts were clocked at 83 miles an hour in Rochester, Minn., and at 62 miles in Waukegan, Ill. Property damage in Rochester was estimated at $100,000.

State To Lure World's Fair Tourists To See Foliage, Landmarks, Shrines

(Editor's note: Pennsylvania will not be among the hundreds of countries, states and industries trying to sell themselves at the World's Fair. Instead of an exhibit, the state has chosen to make an attempt to attract the World's Fair traveler to Pennsylvania. A widespread promotion campaign is being conducted by the state Commerce Department to sell Pennsylvania. The Associated Press reviews this effort in the following article.)

By DAVE LEHERR
Associated Press Writer

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania may provide one of the biggest attractions of the 1964-65 World's Fair in New York without even being there.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars are being spent to put the state on display in hopes of luring fairbound travelers to its lush garden spots and tourist havens.

Even without an exhibit at the fair itself, state officials are confident they can entice a vast majority of the estimated 70 million visitors to stop off in Pennsylvania.

PROMOTION DRIVE

The confidence stems from a full scale advertising campaign promoted by the state Commerce Department.

Colorful magazine displays portray the scenic side of Pennsylvania with its bubbling brooks, blazing foliage, historical landmarks, and natural paradises.

Catchy headlines such as "Fairbound? see fair Pennsylvania too!" or "Poconos: Where honeymoons never end," tell what the commonwealth has to offer.

DISCOVER PENNSYLVANIA

A 54-page color guide is in the works for the May 16 regional edition of the Saturday Evening Post to encourage World's Fair travelers to "discover the new Pennsylvania."

The special guide was financed through funds solicited by the "100,000 Pennsylvania for the Promotion of Economic Growth." It will appear in editions covering six eastern states and Washington D.C. with a total circulation of 1.6 million.

Another 500,000 copies will be put at the disposal of the Commerce Department to answer out-of-state queries for information on the commonwealth.

MAPS, INFORMATION

The guide will include maps and specific information about what to do and what to see when in Pennsylvania.

"It's the largest single advertisement ever to appear in print in a national publication anywhere," says Howard Burnett, executive assistant to John K. Tabor, state secretary of commerce.

The "sell-Pennsylvania" pitch is Burnett's brainchild.

"We didn't have time to prepare a worthwhile exhibit like the other states," he explains. "So rather than do a hasty job that might not do credit to the state, we decided to forego an exhibit."

INDUSTRY EXHIBITS

But, although the state will not have an exhibit, Pennsylvania will be well represented by private industry at the fair, including the U.S. Steel Corp. of Pittsburgh, Scott Paper Co. of Chester and SKF Industries of Philadelphia.

Biggest of the contributions from Pennsylvania industry is the unsphere, a 13-story globe of the earth, symbol of the 1964-65 World's Fair, planned and built by the American Bridge Division of U.S. Steel, part in Pittsburgh and part in the Harrisburg area.

Other industries also will provide impressive displays. As the fair prepares for its big opening date April 22, Pennsylvania continues its tantalizing sales pitch.

WEEKLY COUPONS

Advertisements of Pennsylvania are appearing week after week in national magazines. All contain special coupons to request more information.

The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission is producing a World's Fair brochure to be made available at all its interchanges telling the Pennsylvania story.

"At least two-thirds of the anticipated 70 million people who will visit the fair must travel through Pennsylvania and most of these will be on the turnpike," points out Tabor.

$500,000 PROGRAM

Cost of the extensive hard-sell program is expected to be close to $500,000 by the time the fair is underway. Most of it will come from a $526,657 appropriation for travel development in Gov. Scranton's proposed budget for fiscal 1964-65.

The "100,000 Pennsylvanians for the Promotion of Economic Growth" is putting up $250,000 of the $440,000 cost of the special 54-page book.

Last but not least are the state's plans for "Pennsylvania Day" at the fair, tentatively set for Aug. 28. Nothing definite has been established for the festivities, but Burnett expects the entire day to be devoted to portraying Pennsylvania in its many different faces.

Butchers Vote To Spread Strike

YORK, Pa. (AP) — Striking members of Local 125, Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, plan to step up their picketing of Weis markets in central and eastern Pennsylvania.

The local voted Monday to press for a consumer boycott of the supermarket chain's 50 stores. The current strike affects stores in York, Harrisburg, Lancaster, Lebanon, Reading, Pottstown, Sunbury, Williamsport, Milton, Selinsgrove, Lewiston, Belfonte and Shamokin.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

CHANCES GOOD FOR INCREASE IN SS BENEFIT

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chances of an increase in the basic retirement payment under Social Security appear to be bright this year.

Such an increase could be a byproduct — and perhaps the only immediate result — of the continuing pressure for a federal old age health plan added to the Social Security System.

Another possible outcome would be a revamping of the present state-federal system of medical care for the aged to take in a broader income bracket and to de-emphasize what many critics regard as the welfare aspects of the program.

SCHEDULE DISCUSSIONS

These were the prospects as the House Ways and Means Committee scheduled more closed-door discussions of the Social Security health care plan. President Johnson backs — and of related matters, covering a broad field.

An increase in the retirement payment would fit in well with Johnson's antipoverty program and would not be likely to arouse anything like the opposition that has resisted every move to add health care to the Social Security System.

There has been no over-all increase in the old age retirement payment since Jan. 1, 1959. However, in August 1961, the minimum payment was increased from $33 to $40 a month. MAXIMUM IS $127

The monthly maximum for those fully covered now is $127 at age 65. Wives 65 or older receive half their husbands' benefits. Optional reduced payments may be had at ages between 62 and 65.

A majority of the Ways and Means Committee, which handles all Social Security legislation, is understood still to oppose the medical care plan.

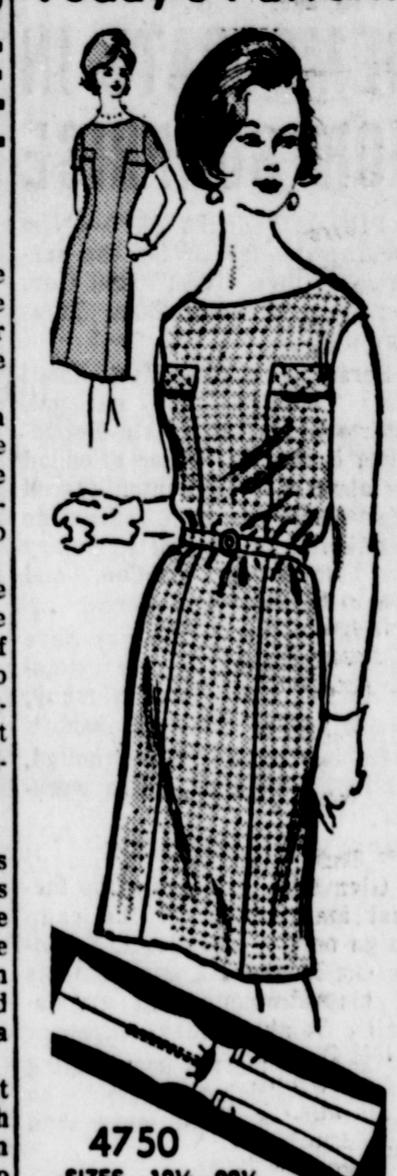

But some of those who oppose it are known to be willing to consider an increase in the old age benefit, based on the argument that the slow but continuous increase in living costs has eroded the means of older persons dependent on Social Security.

Presumably, many members of Congress would welcome an opportunity to cast an election year vote "for the old folks," without becoming embroiled in the emotion-filled controversy over medical care.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — North Viet Nam's Communist government says it has moved 320,000 persons from the populous Red River delta to the mountains, apparently to solve its acute agricultural crisis.

TOKYO (AP) — Former U.S. Vice President Richard M. Nixon accused Indonesia Tuesday of international blackmail in its campaign against the new federation of Malaysia.

The United States, Nixon said in a luncheon speech, "must actively oppose any international blackmail, whether it comes from the Communists or from other countries, such as Indonesia's threat to crush Malaysia."

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — A four-engine Australian airliner lost a propeller and part of an engine moments after taking off from Melbourne Tuesday but landed safely an hour and 41 minutes later after shaking off the damaged engine.

The DC8, carrying 59 passengers and a crew of six, headed out over Port Phillip Bay and landed after the bulk of the engine fell into the bay.

DAVIDSON, Sask. (AP) — Communist China wants to buy tremendous quantities of farm machinery, fertilizer, paper, wheat and minerals from Canada, former Agriculture Minister Alvin Hamilton said Monday night.

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) — Brazil's new revolutionary regime is busy wiping out Communist influence but it also has reportedly invited Cuba and the Soviet Union to attend the inauguration Wednesday of Gen. Humberto Castello Branco as president.

LIBREVILLE, Gabon (AP) — Pro-French President Leon Mba's forces have won a majority of at least seven seats in the new National Assembly.

Incomplete returns from the voting Sunday gave Mba's supporters 27 of the 47 assembly seats, while 16 went to opposition forces demanding the ouster of French troops and less reliance on France.

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The Indonesian government today claimed the surrender of 1,500 rebels in the South Celebes after an all-out attack by dive bombers and paratroopers.

Ruby To Learn Fate April 29

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Condemned slayer Jack Ruby will find out April 29 whether Judge Joe B. Brown will grant his motion for a new trial.

If Judge Brown overrules the motion — and Texas trial judges customarily do — then defense lawyers will begin polishing an appeal of the conviction to the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

Judge Brown overruled a defense motion Monday asking for an extension of time to file an additional new trial motion.

Ruby's attorneys already have filed two such motions, alleging 196 errors in the month-long trial.

Ruby was sentenced to the electric chair for the Nov. 24 slaying of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

'PIKE CRASH KILLS COUPLE

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP) — An auto crash on the Pennsylvania Turnpike near the Irwin Interchange killed a Dearborn, Mich., couple Monday and injured their two children.

Pronounced dead at Jeannette District Memorial Hospital at nearby Jeannette were Robert Stiskin, 24, and his wife, Carol Marie, 24.

Their two children, Eric, 18 months, and Pamela, 4, were detained at the hospital. State police said they were not seriously injured.

Police said the car, operated by Stiskin, skidded out of control during a heavy rain and struck a guard rail off the berm of the road.

It rebounded and hit the panel again, tearing open the left side of the auto, police said. Stiskin and his wife were thrown from the auto.

Killed Himself In Police Fight

ST. PETERSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Sylvan Landers, 37, who exchanged shots with police Saturday, died from a self-inflicted bullet wound of the heart, Coroner J. Ward Kier of Clarion County ruled Monday.

Sheriff Cecil E. Daugherty and a state trooper had gone to Landers' home in nearby Richland Twp. to serve him with an assault and battery warrant when the gunfire erupted.

Daugherty was struck in the arm and stomach during the exchange of gunfire. He was listed in satisfactory condition at Oil City Hospital.

RECENT DEATH IS A MYSTERY

NORWOOD, Mass. (AP) — Investigators refused to say Tuesday whether a partially blind, 63-year-old woman was slain in her home or committed suicide.

The frail body of Goldie Fine was found lying on her back across the foot of her bed Monday by two employees of her husband's dry cleaning firm.

An autopsy disclosed that Mrs. Fine, who had been scheduled to undergo operations for eye cataracts next week, died of "asphyxiation by ligature with two silk stockings around her neck."

Medical examiner Joseph A. King said that he could not determine how the stockings were placed around her neck.

There have been 11 unsolved stranglings of women in eastern Massachusetts in the last 22 months.

However, officials have discounted any connection between the stranglings and Mrs. Fine's death. She was the mother of three grown children.

"Flameless Electric Home Heating Gives Us Draft-Free Comfort Throughout The House"

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn B. Curry, Jr. of Mount Wolf tell why they're well pleased with electric heating

"Heat is available where, when and as we want it," say Mr. and Mrs. Curry, talking about what they consider one of the primary advantages of electric heat. "We can have extra heat in the bathroom, less in the bedrooms — because the temperature in each room is thermostatically controlled."

"Electric heat adapts to the design of a home — whether it's contemporary or traditional — without conflict. In fact," Mrs. Curry continues, "our electric heating system was arranged after we selected the design for our home. The design didn't have to be changed to fit the heating plant. We like the absence of pipes or ducts and the resulting extra space."

This is one of the more than 2300 electrically heated homes in this area. All have the benefits of a truly modern heating method . . . at

Issues False Report Of Death Of Red Premier

By PETER REHAK

HAMBURG, Germany (AP)—A West German news agency apologized today for circulating an erroneous report that Soviet Premier Khrushchev had died. The report Monday night caused a sensation around the world and sent stock prices tumbling on the U.S. Pacific Coast before the director-general of Tass, the Soviet news agency, termed it "rubbish."

Tass reported Tuesday that Khrushchev had begun talks that morning with Polish Communist Party Secretary Wladyslaw Gomulka and Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz, who arrived in Moscow Monday from Warsaw.

PLAN FULL PROBE

DPA—Deutsche Presse Agentur—the West German news agency—announced it is making a full investigation to determine what the erroneous dispatch got onto its wires.

Staff members connected with the affair have been suspended, a statement said. A spokesman said all those involved were in the agency's head office in Hamburg.

The agency said it received an inquiry by Teletype from a West German radio station quoting what purported to be a Tass story on the death of Khrushchev. The inquiry was said to have originated in the Bonn office of a Japanese newspaper.

Reject Statements By Chiropractors

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The State Superior Court has ruled that a statement from a chiropractor is not valid in attesting the physical fitness of a driver. The decision Tuesday upheld a ruling by the State Revenue Department that was challenged in Dauphin County Court by the Pennsylvania Licensed Chiropractors Association and two individual chiropractors.

They had accused the state of unlawful discrimination in refusing to accept certificates from chiropractors.

In an opinion written by Judge Robert Woodside, the Superior Court said "naturally the chiropractors would like to be equated with the medical profession, but neither their recognized field of practice nor the statutes relating to these professions makes such an equation."

Says Doctors Lack General Training

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—The new president of the American Academy of General Practice criticized medical schools today, saying many of them "do not know how to produce a general practitioner."

"Students coming out of the medical schools have not been taught basic medical knowledge," said Dr. Julius Michaelson of Foley, Ala. in an interview. "Too many of the schools are preoccupied with specialization and research work."

"The boys coming out of the schools have very little practical knowledge."

Dr. Michaelson will be installed as president of the academy tonight, succeeding Dr. Albert E. Ripp of St. Paul, Minn.

SAYS PENNA. DEMOCRATS IN FOR SURPRISE

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—"The Democrats are in for the surprise of their lives," said Gov. Scranton, a Republican, Tuesday night.

Scranton was talking about state politics, not national, addressing a $25-a-plate Republican campaign dinner attended by about 2,800, Scranton shared the platform with statewide candidates in the April primary and November election, and other Republican leaders.

"We (the Republicans) have fewer problems in this primary in this state than in many, many years," Scranton said.

He explained, "We're united, we're all together, we're working."

SUPPLIES AMMUNITION

Giving his listeners some factual ammunition for the campaign on the local level, Scranton listed the accomplishments of his administration emphasizing its aid to large cities.

"The Democrats keep saying we're not doing things," he said. "We're doing more than they ever did."

He cited a $34 million subsidy to Philadelphia education, and allocations of some $20 million dollars for highway work in the Philadelphia area.

Among the preliminary speakers were Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., up for re-election; State Sen. Robert Fleming, a candidate for state treasurer, and State House Speaker W. Stuart Helm, seeking the post of auditor general.

Musmanno has been endorsed by the Democratic state party for the Democratic senatorial nomination in the April 28 primary. He is opposed by Genevieve Blatt, secretary of internal affairs who has the support of Clark, and David B. Robert, Allegheny County prothonotary.

Musmanno produced photostatic copies of documents attesting to his birth in Stowe Township, Allegheny County, and to the correctness of Musmanno as the family name.

"Senator Clark's attempt to cast some shadow on my good name, which I have held pure all my life, represents infamy," Musmanno said.

Musmanno also said that during World War I he served where he was sent. "A private does not tell the general how to run the war," he said.

Women Played Important Role In 1876 Exposition

EDITOR'S NOTE: America's first venture at world's fair — in 1853 — failed. But in 1876, the Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia was a singular success. How much did the women's executive committee have to do with it? Second in a three-part series on women and fairs.

By JOY MILLER

NEW YORK (AP) — The Civil War was over, a dozen years before. The bitterness was not.

Could the reunited nation get behind a world's fair to celebrate its 100 years of existence? Would the South contribute?

In its first annual report, written two years before the fair opened, the Women's Centennial Executive Committee said:

"We have before us the raising of the value of woman's work, and, dearer to us than that, the assurance that even now our Southern sisters are one with us in our work and the hope that, through it, peace may be a dweller within our borders."

More than eight million visitors clicked through the turnstiles in 1876 to view the "Mighty Cosmos" spread over 236 acres in Philadelphia Fairmount Park and to marvel at Alexander Graham Bell's new-fangled contraption called the telephone.

The fair's supporters insisted it had unified the country. There was no debate that the fair was a huge success, as far as attendance was concerned.

WOMAN'S WORK

The women's commission started with 13 Philadelphia women, headed by Mrs. Elizabeth Duane Gillespie. They sent out appeals to women in other states, who rallied to raise money for a Women's Pavilion.

In Boston, for example, they held a tea party, made $800. A Montana women went to that territory's legislature and got $5,000.

Eventually the ladies got together enough to build their Women's Pavilion, contribute money to the general fund and provide the opening chorus — which was composed for the occasion by Richard Wagner and sung by a thousand school children. They also so strongly suggested the creation of a Department of Public Comfort that an entire building was devoted to it.

The art object winning highest prize was an exquisite head called Dreaming Iolanthe carved in butter by a Mrs. Brooks of Arkansas.

CARVED BEDSTEADS

Carved bedsteads, a case of etchings by Queen Victoria herself and a quilt by an Alabama woman with 1,500 roses and rosebuds embroidered on it were other highlights.

Near the Pavilion was a little cottage in which 18 small youngsters from the Northern Home for Friendless Children were put through the regular daily exercises of a revolutionary education approach called the "kindergarten system."

Here the school room opened upon a garden where the children planted and cultivated flowers and vegetables, and indulged in games and exercises devised for use in the course. The system, said a book of that time, encouraged kindly treatment and was not yet introduced into the public schools in the United States.

WOMEN'S TRIUMPH

The hard-working Mrs. Gillespie, who headed the Women's Executive Committee through the trying years, had her greatest moment on November 7. There in a reception room at the pavilion, with the state ornamented with flags and banners and the Guard College band playing in the gallery, she received guests starting at noon. At the reception's end she addressed words of welcome and thanks to the group.

There was only one flaw. A man's publication describing the reception said, a bit cattily: "This being election day a very much larger assemblage of ladies than gentlemen were present."

CARVED BEDSTEADS

Carved bedsteads, a case of etchings by Queen Victoria herself and a quilt by an Alabama woman with 1,500 roses and rosebuds embroidered on it were other highlights.

Near the Pavilion was a little cottage in which 18 small youngsters from the Northern Home for Friendless Children were put through the regular daily exercises of a revolutionary education approach called the "kindergarten system."

Here the school room opened upon a garden where the children planted and cultivated flowers and vegetables, and indulged in games and exercises devised for use in the course. HIGH TIDES HIT ALASKA COAST, ERODE ROADS

By JOE RIGERT

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Invading high tides began to recede Tuesday in sunken coastal communities of south-central Alaska, leaving behind eroded highways, a washed-out railroad and more worries for Alaskans.

The monthly high tides reached their peak early today and will gradually fall back for sometime, but they are scheduled to bounce back again as high or higher next month.

Flooding resulted this month because the March 27 earthquake dropped land from three to six feet in parts of Kenai Peninsula, Kodiak Island and possibly the Anchorage area.

Alaskans are faced with a job of building protection for, or jacking up or moving homes, highways, buildings and entire business districts.

SOIL LEVEL DROPS

One of the biggest fears is what would happen if the unusual tides were whipped ashore by strong winds, adding another couple of feet to their depth.

The April highs came in relatively calm weather, but they took out 1½ miles of the Alaska Railroad north of Portage, did further damage to the Anchorage-Seward Highway, flooded Portage and Girdwood southeast of Anchorage, covered much of Homer Spit and jeopardized the business district of Seldovia.

The flooding tides also swept into the lower areas of Kodiak, Valdez and Seward—all of which were devastated by the Good Friday quake and tidal waves which followed.

Here the school room opened upon a garden where the children planted and cultivated flowers and vegetables, and indulged in games and exercises devised for use in the course. The system, said a book of that time, encouraged kindly treatment and was not yet introduced into the public schools in the United States.

FISH SCALES ART

In the pavilion one exhibit presented women's inventions, mostly designed to help with housework: Machines for washing blankets, a system of self-fitting patterns, a barrel cover that could be locked, a machine that cleaned and dried dishes, a combined traveling bag and chair.

Then there were pictures executed in human hair, a whistle made from the tail of a pig, and flowers and toilet articles and jewelry fashioned entirely from fish scales.

Retiring State DPI Chief Lauds Dr. Herbert Bryan

Dr. Herbert E. Bryan, New Oxford, director of the bureau of school district organization in the state Department of Public Instruction, is one of the aides of the retiring DPI superintendent, Dr. Charles H. Boehm, who has been cited for "outstanding contributions to education."

At a farewell reception tendered Dr. Boehm by his staff, Dr. Bryan and several others were presented with certificates of commendation by Dr. Boehm.

In awarding the citation to Dr. Bryan, who formerly was associated with the public schools of Adams County, Dr. Boehm recalled that Dr. Bryan was the first educator to join the department staff after Dr. Boehm became state superintendent and that "Dr. Bryan's knowledge of school and school business made him valuable as the department's administration authority and as the superintendent's trouble shooter."

NATIONAL AUTHORITY

Dr. Bryan was praised for organizing and conducting the numerous state-wide conferences on education from which the department surveyed the commonwealth's educational needs and in which the department tested its educational policies and practices.

Particular mention was made of Dr. Bryan as a "national as well as a state authority on school district reorganization" and recognition was given to his writing, studies, surveys and his accomplishment in this field. He currently is in charge of administering Act 289, the 1963 school reorganization law.

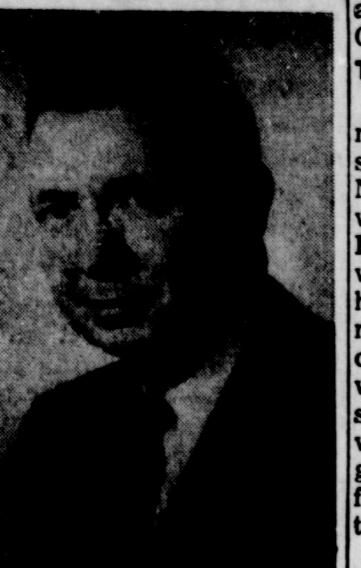

In his almost eight years with the DPI, Dr. Bryan has served as director of educational leadership and development, director of school business, acting deputy for administration, secretary to the state council and consultant to the General Assembly committees on education.

Dr. Boehm is ending eight years as state superintendent of public instruction to take a position as educational consultant to the government of Colombia, South America. His service will be sponsored jointly by the U. S. State Department, the National Educational Association and UNESCO.

The board adopted the $524,190 budget for the 1964-65 term, an increase of approximately $40,000 over last year's budget, and approved payment of bills for the month in the amount of $41,629.35. The treasurer's report showed a net balance of $38,064.35. Expenses for the month included $24,112.98 for payroll, $753.30 for fleet insurance, $1,480 to Metropolitan Edison Company for electricity and $1,051.43 to Columbia Gas Company. Fuel and gasline from Aero Oil Company cost $760.50.

STATE LOANS AVAILABLE TO PA. STUDENTS

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania Higher Education Assistance Agency says state loans totaling $4.2 million are available for college students who qualify.

Jack Critchfield, acting executive director of the agency, announced Tuesday that every bank in the state would be invited to participate in the program by agreeing to make the loans. The agency guarantees 100 per cent repayment, he said.

Students will initiate the loan application through the agency and forward it to his college's registrar for certification.

FIVE-YEAR PERIOD

The application then will be returned to the agency for approval or disapproval.

Those approved will be forwarded to the participating bank which will, in turn, notify the student.

Repayments may be extended over a five-year period beginning no later than six months after the student ceases to be enrolled at his college. The loans will be issued at 5 per cent interest.

UP TO $1,000

To be eligible, students must live in Pennsylvania and have completed satisfactorily a minimum of one academic year of full time undergraduate or part time graduate study in a recognized institution of higher learning in the United States.

Part time graduate students must be enrolled for a minimum of six credits to be eligible to apply and may not receive more than $500 per academic year.

The maximum loan for full time students is $1,000 per year, with no student being permitted to borrow more than a total of $5,000.

DENIES ASKING METER PAYOFF

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Former Reading Mayor John C. Kubacki, on trial here for extortion, has testified that he never solicited an $800 clock which he received as a gift from a parking meter company.

Kubacki said Tuesday that he received the clock from the Karpark Corp. of Starkville, Miss., as a Christmas gift.

Thomas F. McBride, special assistant U.S. attorney, asked Kubacki if he ever received gifts totaling $11,000 in cash, four boat tickets to Europe and a stereo-TV set from several persons. Kubacki replied no each time.

The former mayor said a group of citizens did present him with a watch in 1962 for his efforts in bringing baseball back to Reading.

Kubacki and Abraham Miner, a Reading gambler, are accused of extorting $10,500 and the clock from Karpark and Koontz Equipment Co. of Pittsburgh, parking meter firms doing business with the city of Reading.
